

Dear Members and Friends,

According to ancient legends, the traditional Hindu Festival of Lights, Deepavali or Diwali to some, marks the return of Rama after a long period of exile. To celebrate his return, people light rows of oil lamps and exchanging greeting cards, clothing and other gifts. Deepavali means "row of lamps". Light is a powerful metaphor for knowledge and consciousness. Deepavali is the celebration of the inner light.

Malaysian Hindus traditionally celebrate the occasion together with friends and families from all religions, with joy, happiness, and abundance of food.

The Malaysian Club Deutschland, once again, brings the tradition to Frankfurt.
